Re: Moore, et al. v. Navillus, et al., Case No. 14-CV-8326 (CM)(JLC)

Dear Judge McMahon:

On April 26, 2017 and May 5, 2017, Defendants Navillus Tile, Inc. and ACS, produced more than 1,800 pages of documents to Plaintiffs, including expert financial evaluations of both Navillus and ACS and other selected financial documents. Defendant Time Square Construction, Inc. has indicated that it will also be producing additional documents to the Plaintiffs but has not yet done so.

Certain of these documents such as the financial statements were previously produced to Plaintiffs in redacted form without revealing any financial information, others have been produced for the first time. We have received the consent of the Defendants to extend the time for Plaintiffs' filing a motion in limine in connection with these documents, if we determine it to be necessary to do so, until one week after Time Square produces the additional documents that it has indicated that it intends to provide. The Plaintiffs are making this proposal to enable the Plaintiffs to make a single omnibus motion with respect to any documents they seek to exclude from this submission instead of burdening the Court with separate motions.

Accordingly, Plaintiffs request an extension of their time to file a motion in limine with respect to the newly produced documents until seven (7) days after the Time Square production is made.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.
